The CMFRI research project on “Empowerment of Scheduled Caste Fisherfolk through Entrepreneurial Capacity Building of Self Help Groups in Kerala” under the Department of Science & Technology (DST) fund, will focus on the situational analysis through Participatory Learning and Action in the selected potential locations in Ernakulam district of Kerala among Scheduled Caste fisherfolk and mobilizing and strengthening them into Self Help Groups though appropriate interventions. The preference of SC stakeholders to fishery based micro enterprises catering to the location specific needs is to be assessed and training on Entrepreneurial Capacity Building (ECB) to the SHGs through adoption of sustainable income generating micro enterprises is to be undertaken. Participatory evaluation, video documentation and assessment of economic viability of the identified micro enterprises with developed business plans have to be done and the success cases of SHGs on ECB will have to be documented. Follow up programmes for facilitating empowered SHGs to develop linkages with technical/ institutional/ financial organizations are to be undertaken for long term sustainability.
