

Agricultural Research Information System (ARIS) Cell

- Maintenance of the statistical database on a large number of species of pelagic and demersal fishes, crustaceans and molluscs over space and time.
- Currently it holds the data on marine fish landings in the analysed form since 1950.
- Development of the software for the storage and retrieval of the data